Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to because they are of a quality which does not reproduce well -- specifically figures 2-6 are derived from photographic images which have a visual dynamic range which does not reproduce accurately in a black and white environment. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-13 are allowed.

3. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art of record fails to teach each and every limitation of the claims as recited. Among the references cited below, the reference to Wartian teaches a great number of the features of the latching element, but fails to teach the opening in the hood as coming into engagement with the pin to discourage relative motion of the hood and pin. To adjust the size of mating elements to control clearance is old and well known, however Wartian specifically teaches that the hood opening is larger than the pin so as to allow clearance when opening or closing the hood (col. 1, lines 66-71), and to modify the reference so that the pin engages the opening walls would destroy this feature.

Conclusion

4. This application is in condition for allowance except for the following formal matters:

The drawings are objected to as set forth above (paragraph 1).

Prosecution on the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

A shortened statutory period for reply to this action is set to expire TWO MONTHS from the mailing date of this letter.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Miller (US 1,047,679), Kesl et al. (US 2,833,365), Aaron (US 3,528,520), Boehm et al. (US 3,688,856), Pyle (US 4,801,165), Wartian (US 3,633,390), Templeton et al. (US 5,634,525), DeRees et al. (US 5,806,620 and 6,345,846), Dennison et al. (US 6,626,256), Hyslop et al. (US 6,666,291), and Desmarais et al. (US 2002/0053804) teach hood structures and latches of pertinence.
